PLANT PRODUCING WITH SCHEDULED MAINTENANCE COMPLETE

The Company is pleased to announce that the annual maintenance of the entire plant and the notified Eskom maintenance is now complete with the power now fully restored to the facility. The plant was started earlier this week, and we resumed LNG production as of 19 September. The helium module is being started and will be brought down to temperature in order to recommence filling.

“The scheduled maintenance was completed within our scheduled timelines and undertaken for the first time managed and supervised completely by our own engineering, operations and maintenance departments since having taken control of the process plant. We look forward to continued improvement and stability in the system following the maintenance, and we look forward to filling and delivering containers for customers again,” said CEO Stefano Marani.
